PA NEWC Observes

According to the report of State Treasurer Ramser S. Black, direct relief payments made to needy residents of Lawrence county during the past week were $1,020.

Autumn will arrive in this area on Sunday, the official change of seasons being scheduled for 4:50 a. m. Eastern Standard Time.

One more week of daylight savings time and then the community will revert to Eastern Standard Time, according to the present indications.

Corn is being shocked on many farms of the county at the present time.

Recent rains have given the wheat an excellent start in this sector, Pa. News is told.

Out where the Pulaski fair grounds was once the center of attraction, it is noted that the enclosure inside the old half-mile track has been farmed during the past season.

Eighteen per cent of home accident fatalities were children under five years of age during 1944, reports the National Safety Council.

The weather bureau reported the first general frost of the season in Kane today with temperatures at 31 degrees. No damage was reported.

Today is being observed as Poppy Day by the Service Star Legion, and a good response is being noted. Members of the organization were on the main street corners in the business district at an early hour and soon bright red poppies were blossoming from countless button-holes.

Pa. News noticed one individual this morning who thought he would show his patriotism by wearing a poppy sold some time in the past on a poppy drive and would thus not be subjected to solicitation. However, the poppies being sold today are of a different design and color. Some people seem to think the poppies sold in these drives are good for a lifetime.

One season is nearing an end that for the park bench sitters. Their numbers are thinning out daily as the weather gets a little more fall-like.

Government To Intervene In Oil Industry Strike

Call Conference In Chicago For Tuesday In Effort At Settlement

GASOLINE SHORT IN SOME AREAS

(U. S. S. Staff Correspondent)
The strike picture in the United States remained none too promising today despite the move of the federal government to intervene in the oil industry walkout.

As 20,000 oil workers throughout the nation stayed away from their jobs another day, Edgar L. Warren, federal conciliation director, announced a conference would be held in Chicago next Tuesday to settle the wage dispute between management and labor.

Warren's announcement came as supplies of gas continued to grow short and as Detroit and Toledo felt the pinch of small supplies. In Detroit, taxi cab service will be available another day as cab companies reported they had some fuel available while in Toledo only residential users were able to buy it.

The strike situation in the automobile industry, centered in Detroit, was not so black although additional wildcat walkouts interfered with efforts of UAW-CIO officials to present their strongest front when they meet with management with their demands.

Latest walkouts in Detroit closed the Dodge truck division of the Chrysler Corporation and the Zenith.

Many Gas Stations In Detroit Closed

Transportation System Sputters To Near Halt Result Of Strike Conditions

DETROIT, Sept. 22.—(INS)—Detroit was faced with using available street cars or walking today as its transportation system sputtered to a near-halt.

More than 60 per cent of the city's gas stations were closed. Company officials said all would be shut by Monday.

The number of workers idled by strikes topped 75,000.

Taxicab companies, with their own storage tanks dry, told drivers to "get your gas wherever you can and keep going as long as you can."

Meat and vegetable wholesalers said they would be unable to make retail store deliveries after Monday. Milk company executives could not promise service after the middle of next week. Doctors were making home calls only in emergencies.

Post office trucks had enough gas to operate until late next week and the city's largest retail store delivery service, which is used by many smaller Detroit stores, had enough gas for 10 days at most.

Deny Stalin Is Going To Retire

MOSCOW, Sept. 22.—(INS)—Official Russian quarters today described the rumor carried in the Paris "Presse" that Premier Joseph Stalin would retire as "unfounded."

These circles said that Stalin is in excellent health, adding that there was no evidence of his retiring.

On the contrary, it was said since the war is over the Russian leader will be able to engage even more in state activities.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—(INS)—Fordham University's seismograph today registered a fairly severe earthquake which occurred 8,300 miles from New York, apparently in the southwest Pacific area.

Atomic Bomb Mission Head Scotches Reports Of Long After Effects

TOKYO, Sept. 22.—(INS)—Brig. Gen. James B. Newman Jr., head of the War department's atomic bomb mission, today scotched reports of long continuing radioactive effects of the super weapon.

General Newman, returning from Nagasaki after a study of the bomb's power, said:

"Exhaustive tests have shown that there is no residue radio activity in the bombed area which could affect the human body or plant life."

Make Further Investigation

He said that some of the 17 scientists and medical men with whom he conducted the tests are remaining in Nagasaki for further investigation. A similar party is surveying Hiroshima.

Murphy Home After Liberation As Jap Prisoner

New Castle Seaman Tells Of 22 Months Spent As Captive Of Japanese

TAKEN PRISONER WHEN SUB WAS SUNK

"It's too good to express," were words uttered this morning by Paul Louis Murphy, fireman 1-c, a Japanese prisoner of war for the past 22 months, who arrived home this morning—the first local man to return from Japanese captivity.

Relating a few of his experiences under the rule of the Japanese, the 22-year-old navyman, attached to the submarine branch, said that the treatment was "rough, but with the favorable progress of the war for the Americans, the attitude of the Japs, 'chained' towards our prisoners."

Ship Is Sunk

Paul Louis Murphy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Murphy, of 1615 Huron avenue, was stationed on the U. S. S. Sculpin when the sub was sunk November 19, 1943. Quite a few of the crew went down including the highest officer. These captured were taken to the island of Truk by the Japanese in command, and here the Americans spent "rough" days, undergoing questioning. Of the submarine crew, 42 were rescued and sent to Truk. Later the group journeyed from Truk to Tokyo in Jap convoy air.

Planes Crash Into Downtown Miami

Bodies Of Two Pilots Are Recovered From Wreckage—Crash Starts Fire

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 22.—(INS)—The body of a second pilot was recovered today from the wreckage of two planes which crashed into downtown Miami last night after colliding in the air.

Earlier reports said at least three men in each plane died when the ships collided, but firemen reported the bodies of only two, the pilots, were recovered. Neither was immediately identified.

Flying In Formation

The planes, P-51 fighters, came from the MacDill Naval Air Station, were flying in formation with three others when they crashed at an altitude of 1200 feet.

Wreckage from one ship fell into the alleyway between the Coast-guard motor pool garage and a warehouse of the Frank T. Budge Co. The second plane hurtled through the roof of the warehouse, setting it afire.

Streets for several blocks around were crowded with spectators as civilian and naval firemen fought flames in the warehouse and garage.

Undersea Craft Which Sank 200 Jap Ships Gathered At Mare Island

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 22.—(INS)—Twenty-one U. S. submarines, the underwater craft which sank 200 Jap ships gathered at Mare Island navy yard in San Francisco bay today to await future orders.

Skippers and executive officers of the subs, relating their saga of the war on the Japs, paid fervent tribute to the design and construction of their vessels.

"Our boats have stood terrific punishment," they agreed. "We have undergone depth bombing long often and close, and the fact that we're here speaks the highest praise for the durability of American submarines."

Local Canning Sugar Quota Is Exhausted

No more applications for canning sugar are being accepted by the local board, according to an announcement from the War Price and Rationing board this morning.

The quota issued to the local board has been completely exhausted, leaving no sugar at all for the few applications which are still straggling in. Individual allotments were cut during the summer in order to divide the sugar among as many persons as possible.

Summer Will End On Sunday

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—(INS)—At 5:30 a. m. (EWT) tomorrow summer will end and autumn begin. It will be the autumnal equinox.

Summer's finish is dictated by the time the sun's rays fall vertically upon the equator and day and night are theoretically of equal length.

From tomorrow until mid-December, the length of days in the northern hemisphere will dwindle by about 21 minutes a day. Then the sun will start back north again.

Dewey - Marshall Letter Disclosure To Be Aired

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—(INS)—The Dewey-Marshall Pearl Harbor letter disclosure today dropped a political bombshell on Congress and official Washington.

It brought reliable assurances that the congressional Pearl Harbor committee will air the entire matter—General George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, does not do so first.

Will Insist on Facts

Republican members of the 10-man committee made it plain they will insist upon all the facts bearing on the revelation that Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, of Marshall's written request, refrained from using in his 1944 campaign the information that the late President Roosevelt knew of Jap attack

COURT STARTLED BY NEW REQUEST

BULLETIN

LUENEBURG, Sept. 22.—(INS)—The name of Alfred Rosenberg, arch priest of Nazi paganism, was injected into the "Beast of Belsen" horror trial today.

Josef Kramer, head butcher in two of Germany's most notorious concentration camps, who already is accused of responsibility for the murder of four million Jews, started the British military court by asking that Rosenberg testify in his behalf.

Rosenberg once was chosen by Adolf Hitler to be supreme ruler of a Nazified Russia. He is now in the common jail at Luenenburg awaiting trial as a war criminal himself.

Returning Fleet Will Bring 5,000 Veterans Home

WITH THE VICTORY FLEET EN ROUTE TO THE UNITED STATES, Sept. 22.—(INS)—An estimated 5,000 veterans of the Pacific war will join America's homeward-bound Third Fleet at Okinawa today, and the fleet will be ready and eager to take them aboard.

As the mighty armada neared the 600-mile mark on the long voyage home from Tokyo, captain's inspection was held aboard the Iowa, Alabama, South Dakota, Wisconsin and other ships strung out for miles in now peaceful seas. All were found ship-shape.

Travel Slowly

Because of the presence of the old battlewagons Colorado and West Virginia in the great sea parade, we are traveling at only 15 knots. Both of the old proud warships are crowded with military naval and marine personnel.

The Texas, Arkansas and Nevada will join the fleet at Okinawa with hundreds of additional service men aboard, all eligible for discharge or furloughs at home.

The big modern battleships of the fleet will turn on the steam and proceed in their own formation on the journey from Okinawa to Pearl Harbor, where Admirals Chester W. Nimitz and William F. Halsey will board their flagships.

Two Families Are Homeless By Fire

KANE, Pa., Sept. 22.—(INS)—Two families were homeless today after a fire, believed caused by sparks from a passing train, leveled four two-story frame houses at Sergeant's.

The blaze started on a shingle roof of the home occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Gottlieb Strade, an 80-year-old couple. The flames, fanned by a high wind, spread rapidly to the other dwellings. The amount of damage was not estimated.

ELLWOOD YANKS' TRAVELOGUE

Peacetime travelers usually arrive from Europe with their bags plastered with stickers denoting their itinerary. Pfc. Ventrigia was overseas for three and a half years.

'Big Five' Session Shriners Here Much Disrupted For Ceremonial

British Officials Blast Initiating Of Five Year Russo-Hungarian Economic Agreement

REPORT FEELING BITTER OVER PACT

LONDON, Sept. 22.—(INS)—Coincident with the announcement that the big five plenary session of foreign ministers scheduled for this morning had been "postponed," British officials circles today strongly blasted initiating a five-year Russo-Hungarian economic agreement.

Conference circles refused to admit whether the postponement was due to British and allegedly American and French inter-freeling over conclusion of the Russo-Hungarian pact. However, it was obvious that they were deeply stirred.

Postponement of the plenary session came shortly after the official announcement that Prime Minister Clement R. Attlee had ordered an

Shanghai's 'Man In Street' Seeing And Talking About New Order In Sector

SHANGHAI, Sept. 22.—(INS)—Shanghai's man in the street today is seeing and talking about visual evidence of the "new order" in the Far East.

For the first time in the memory of any living Chinese, American ships are occupying the honored No. 1 position in "Batelship Row" on the Whangpoo River, opposite the Bund.

In four buoy spaces, the British Navy traditionally had occupied the first, French the second, United States the third and Japanese the fourth.

Today, however, the USS Rocky Mount, flagship of Adm. Thomas Kinkaid, is in the first buoy space, the Coast Guard cutter Ingham, flagship of Rear Adm. Buckmaster, is in the second, other United States ships are in the third and the British are fourth.

Moreover, the cruiser Nashville, flagship of Read Adm. C. T. Joy, commander of Yangtze River forces is even moored ahead of the number 1 buoy.

Naval Police Of Japan Ordered To Be Abolished

Gen. MacArthur Issues New Order 'Cracking Down' On Japanese Gov. ernment

ORDERS ARREST OF GEN. NOBUYUKI ABE

By FRANK ROBERTSON

(U. S. S. Staff Correspondent)

TOKYO, Sept. 22.—Gen. Douglas MacArthur, cracking the whip at the Japanese Imperial government, today ordered the empire to "apprehend and deliver" Gen. Nobuyuki Abe, and to proceed immediately to dissolve the Nipponese naval police.

Abe, former governor general of Korea, was dismissed recently as pro-ten functionary in that office by Lt. Gen. John R. Hodge, commander of U. S. occupation troops in Korea.

General Abe, against whom charges were not made public, now is believed to be in the Tokyo area. He was accused of surrendering to the U. S. Eastern Army.

Final Demobilization

At the same time General MacArthur directed the Imperial government to achieve without delay the "complete and final demobilization" of the Japanese naval police.

Earlier the government had promised to reduce the naval police to 11,269 by Oct. 31. Empire authorities wanted this force retained until all arms had been collected and turned over to the Allies.

General MacArthur's reply called instead for summation of the entire Japanese naval police structure and instructed the government to place all food, clothing, arms and munitions assigned to this force under civil police guard.

Meanwhile, Japanese realists, cheered by the imminent arrest of

Final Decision On New Design For Navy Uniforms Is Expected Soon

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—(INS)—Gobs weary of monkey jackets and modified bell-bottom trousers could look forward today to waiting them for some time yet.

The Navy's Bureau of Personnel continued congressional reports that a new enlisted men's uniform was in the works, not added that it will be some time before present uniform supplies are exhausted.

Personnel officials said, however, that a final decision on the new design for enlisted men's uniforms would be made well in advance of the exhaustion of the present supply.

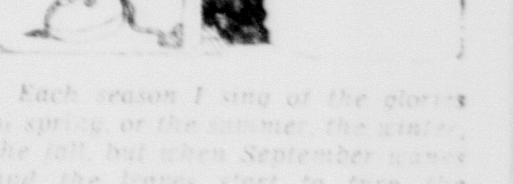

Number Of Designs

Current and prospective sailors could not even for the present console themselves with a vision of something shabby dreamed up by Brooks Brothers.

Directive Will Be Issued For Gen MacArthur

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—(INS)—An administration directive designed to clarify the political lines which Army Gen. Douglas MacArthur is to follow in occupying the Japanese homeland was reportedly being prepared today for issuance over the week-end.

It will be directed at quieting the political situation created by MacArthur's recent statement that it will be unnecessary for the United States to maintain an army of more than 200,000 men in Japan after six months time.

It has not yet been decided as to what governmental agency will issue the order. President Truman might issue it as commander-in-chief of the armed forces, but because the situation is so much in the political field, it was believed he would not do so.

State Department Official

For much the same reason, it was believed that the State Department would not issue the statement. MacArthur is under military command and the State Department is concerned entirely in international political matters.

Therefore, it was believed that the directive would come either from the War Department or the joint chiefs of staff.

While it was believed in Washington that MacArthur had no idea of the political situation created by his estimate of the occupying force, top governmental quarters were dismayed.

Acting Secretary of State Dean Acheson moved on Wednesday to counter MacArthur's assertion by saying in effect that he should confine himself to carrying out occupation policies and not to develop them.

The situation thus created was generally attributed to the sudden collapse of the Far Eastern war. The planners had not had the long period for preparation for political problems that they had prior to the collapse of Germany.

The diplomatic and political representatives who should have been on hand to help MacArthur were not there when the Japanese quit.

The administration's interest at present is to quell the political situation created by the dispute between MacArthur and Acheson. Congress has been deluged with pleas for the rapid demobilization of the armed forces and many members are inclined to support MacArthur.

craft carriers and only 21 of the men including one officer survived the ordeal and questioning.

Stopping briefly at Camp Onuma, which is noted for its brutal treatment of the Americans, the crew from the Sculpin was sent to Camp Ashio. They arrived at Camp Ashio, 80 miles north of Tokyo on January 23, 1944, and it was at this time that the Murphy family here received first word that their son was missing in action. He was reported a prisoner of the Japanese government, three months later, on his birthday, April 2, 1944.

Put to Work

Camp Ashio is near a copper mining town, and our prisoners were put to work mining copper following their capture. The group worked at the copper mine for 18 months, together with the Koreans.

The food was poorly cooked, and of little variety consisting of barley and maize. Rice was considered a delicacy, and therefore was not provided for the prisoners. However, it was not until after the war was won, that the food problem improved for the Americans, and even at that it wasn't too good. Rice was included in the meals, and once in a while a little meat.

There was very little medical treatment at camp for the supplies and medicine were scarce. An American doctor and an English doctor were assigned to the camp, but their services were restricted due to lack of proper equipment. Through the Red Cross, medicine was received, but most of it was used for those prisoners who were seriously ill.

Losses Much Weight

Paul weighed 178 pounds when he entered the service and during his captivity his weight fell to 126 pounds. Since his release he has gone to 160 pounds, and is still gaining. He did not suffer many of the ailments, which afflicted many of the prisoners, and with a sufficient amount of rest, he will soon regain excellent health.

During the month of August of this year, the prisoners noted a decided change among Jap guards and on August 18, 19 food packages were dropped by B-29 planes at Jap prison camp. The Americans realized that the war was nearly over, or almost over. No definite news was known until the Japanese announced that it would no longer be necessary for the prisoners to salute Japanese soldiers or to bow down to them or even to work in the copper mines. Then the Americans realized that the war was over, and that the Allies were winners.

Receives Mail

Paul was very fortunate in receiving mail from home, and during his captivity received quite a few letters. On August 18, after the great announcement that the war was over, he received 33 letters. Our prisoners would write often to their families at home, but afterwards the Japs would burn the letters, and lie to the prisoners, that the letters were being sent home. At one time, he was able to send a radiogram to his family, and the message was broadcast from Japan. Listeners on the west coast heard the Murphy family here. Also while at Camp Ashio, three packages were received from the American Red Cross.

On September 4, the Japs invaded the prison camp, and the joy of the prisoners is indescribable. No time was lost to send the prisoners by train to Tokyo, where they received food from the Red Cross. By plane they were flown to Pearl Harbor.

With only a brief stop at Guam, Paul departed from Pearl Harbor on the same plane with the famous Major Bovington, landing in Oakland, Calif. Following a medical examination there, he was flown to Chicago. After another examination, he departed for home and for a 90-day leave, with a 15-day extension.

At the close of his leave he will report at Great Lakes Naval hospital.

Already the good news is known, and many of Paul's friends have been calling the young seaman at home. The Murphy residence is a happy one today, the happiest during the entire three years that the son has been in the submarine service.

The radar industry delivered $2,700,000,000 worth of equipment to the army and navy during the first six months of 1945.

GOVERNMENT TO INTERVENE IN OIL INDUSTRY STRIKE

About 80,000 Out

More than 80,000 workers are out because of strikes in oil and auto plants in the Detroit area. More than 20 federal conciliators are in the city to settle the numerous walkouts.

Meantime strike threats hung over the northwest lumber industry, with 60,000 AFL lumber workers scheduled to walkout at 12:01 a. m. Monday, and over the maintenance service workers in New York. Leaders of 30,000 Manhattan building employees have rejected a regional War Labor Board offer on wages and hours and the possibility of a strike grew. Thirty thousand CIO lumber workers in the northwest area also were preparing to strike for higher wages.

More Serious

Warren appointed Justice William L. Knaus of the Colorado supreme court to preside over the management-worker meeting in the oil industry dispute. Warren said the dispute and work stoppage was more serious than the automobile dispute since it unquestionably will affect the fuel supply next winter.

The federal conciliators at work on automobile strikes in Detroit are concentrating on the Murray Body Co., and Woodall industries strikes. The UAW officials seek to settle the Kelsey-Hayes wildcat strike but have had no success.

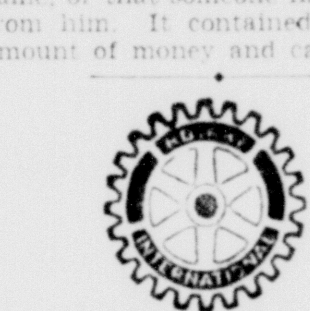

General Motors may make a counteroffer to the UAW next week. The auto workers are demanding a 30 percent wage increase from GM, Ford and Chrysler. Ford has ignored the request of the UAW to a meeting and Chrysler's answer is expected soon.

ROSENBERG'S NAME IS INJECTED INTO HORROR CAMP TRIAL

that the name of any of the leading figures in Hitler's regime had been invoked.

The obvious inference was that Kramer sought to prove that in torturing and murdering Jews and other "enemies" of the Nazi government by countless thousands he merely was acting under orders.

Whether his appeal would be heeded was problematical. The Liebenberg court has granted Kramer and his 44 men and women co-defendants the right to call witnesses in their own behalf, but Rosenberg already is under arrest and stands convicted in public opinion at least of offenses against all international law and common decency.

Rosenberg is the man who originated the worship of Hitler and the Nazi legend. He is chiefly responsible for training of German youth according to the pagan precepts of ancient Teuton mythology.

His object was to substitute Hitler's "Mein Kampf" for the Bible and the German sword for the cross.

Rounded Up Like Animals

A Jewish woman physician testified today that trembling women and children attempting to escape the legal gas chambers of the Auschwitz death camp were rounded up like animals being led to slaughter.

Dr. Ada Bunko, who abominably served the deaths of her mother, brother and seven-year-old son in gas chambers disguised as showers and Josef Kramer and blonde Irma Grese watched as the victims were herded into trucks which carried them to death.

Kramer, the ash-blond 21-year-old Irma and 43 other defendants are on trial before a British military court for mass murders committed at Auschwitz in southwestern Poland and at the infamous Belsen concentration camp.

Kicked and Beaten

The physician, who escaped the gas chamber because of her protest, said that prisoners were kicked and beaten by Kramer, who later earned the name of the "Beast of Belsen."

designs had been prepared, but refused to give any clues as to their color or cut.

After the designs have been worked out to select the best looking numbers, officials said, reproductions will be sent to important fleet commands for study and suggestions.

They will also be made available to the public, which will be given all of the fun of debating the stylistic pros and cons but will have no say on the final choice, which must be approved by the secretary of the Navy.

Officials hinted at possible changes in officers' garrs, stating that the matter of officers' uniforms was now undergoing study although no changes might eventually be made.

Moods Are Manufactured By Your Surroundings

Cheerful wallpaper, a little paint, a new suit of clothes, an open fireplace, a group of friends round the dinner table, all of them put you in a cheerful mood and you are looking at the world through rose colored glasses.

But as a mood maker—and a cheerful mood of course—the number one of them all is flowers. You just can't feel blue or discouraged or down in the mouth with flowers around the house. They won't let you.

Manufacture your own moods, keep a few flowers around the home. You'll notice the difference.

be produced before the committee in order that we may have all the facts," he declared.

Ferguson left no doubt that he regarded the two purported letters from Marshall to Dewey as "original evidence."

Sen. Brewster (R-Maine), wholeheartedly endorsed Ferguson's statement as the other Senate Republican on the committee, Rep. Gearhart (R-Calif.), one of the two House minority members, strongly indicated that he, too, took that position.

"I have said all along that I'm for pursuing any evidence relating to the causes and responsibility for Pearl Harbor," he said. "I'm for revealing the entire truth."

Dewey confirmed the receipt of General Marshall's letter but referred newsmen to the chief of staff for its text.

A reliable administration source said that the Pearl Harbor committee, headed by Senate Majority Leader Barkley, inevitably would take up the sensational story revealed by friends of Dewey.

Senate Committee Makes Changes In Recruitment Bill

Raise Minimum Re-Enlistment
Period From One Year To Eighteen Months

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—(INS)—Senate military affairs committee approved the house-passed May re-enlistment bill today with an amendment raising from one year to 18 months the minimum re-enlistment period for men with six months army service.

Sen. Thomas (D-Utah), committee chairman, announced that in view of the overwhelming house vote to act not only on an enlistment bill, but on his own proposal to block induction of youths under 20 or 22.

"If voluntary service doesn't work before next May, when the draft act expires, then we'll have to do something," Thomas said.

Cause Undue Delay
Thomas said any attempt to combine a revision of the selective service act with a recruitment bill would "cause undue delay" at a time when the army needs to get going immediately on a recruitment program.

"We'll let my proposal cool," he declared. "But I think there is great agitation to do away with the draft on the basis of its expense to the government."

As it passed the house, the bill sponsored by Rep. May (D-Ky.) provides for a two or three year enlistment period except that any member of the army of the United States with at least six months active service may enlist for one year—plus the period of furlough.

The senate committee, at the war department's suggestion, changed this period to 18 months.

Uneconomical
A war department spokesman pointed out that the one-year period was inserted on the house floor and that the department regarded it as uneconomical.

The army fears that a rush of one-year enlistments would bring many men up for release just at the time when combat veterans serving under longer term enlistments would also be due for release.

Thomas pointed out that the bill guarantees to any youth enlisting voluntarily before next May all the benefits of the selective service act and GI bill, including re-employment rights, hospitalization, etc.

"Any person who passes up this opportunity is foolish," he said.

Plan Commission For Policies On Atomic Control

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—(INS)—The Senate military affairs committee approved legislation Friday creating an 11-member commission, including bi-partisan congressional representation, to formulate policies on the control and use of atomic energy.

An original bill introduced by Sen. Thomas (D-Utah), committee chairman, was amended to add the ranking minority members of the House and Senate military and naval affairs committees to its original 7-man panel.

The bill as reported would thus provide membership of the chief justice of the supreme court; a member to be appointed by the president; the chairman of the House and Senate military and naval committees; and a Republican from each of these groups; and a member to be selected by those above named to represent the industry which developed the atomic bomb.

Thomas said the purpose of his proposal was to make certain "that full control of atomic energy shall be in the hands of the people of the United States."

CABBAGE

Cabbage is an old friend. Long before vitamins were heard of, cabbage was a common food vegetable.

People know that it provided very little nourishment but they ate it anyway. They liked it and it made them feel better.

When it was learned that cabbage contained vitamins we had another reason for its popularity.

The vitamins in cabbage are very easily lost. If it is cut and allowed to stand too long the vitamins are gone.

The cooking time should be as short as possible. As soon as it is tender it should be eaten right away. Cooking water gets most of the vitamins so it should not be wasted.

A little more of the kohlslaw please.

At the beginning of the nineteenth century Broadway was about two miles long and paved half its length.

WASHINGTON CALLING

cities, since the ban was lifted on the use of fuel oil, householders are paying fantastic prices for oil burners and for men who can install them. These prices are two and three times the OPA limit.

A high cost building boom is likely to be short-lived. When it collapses, the effect on our whole economy can be very serious. This is not the way to get homes for veterans and for wage earners who have waited through the war for a place of their own.

We are moving with what seems indecent haste to scrap everything connected with the war, whether good, bad or indifferent. Take another example.

Under the Latham act, federal funds were appropriated to operate day centers for the care of small children whose mothers were working in some phase of the war effort. These centers have done a good job.

To End Centers
Many of the mothers who left their youngsters there during the day were the wives of servicemen who would have found it difficult or impossible to live on soldier allowances. More recently, others were war widows who have gone to work to support their families. Still other children have been from families in which both parents were working in war plants or shipyards.

The Federal Works administration announced immediately after the surrender of Japan that federal assistance for child care would end on October 31. The Latham act would permit federal aid to go on until the president officially declares the end of the present national emergency, which may still be many months away.

The October deadline doesn't give war wives a chance to make an adjustment. Husbands and fathers are still overseas by hundreds of thousands. It doesn't give local communities a chance to take over, even if legally and financially they could take over. What we are saying to those mothers is:

"We needed you during the war. So we took care of your children. We don't need you now."

What's that? You say you can't find a house big enough for the kids nor anyone to look after them? They'll get run over playing on the streets? Well, you'll just have to take your chances.

This is the surest way to demoralize, to the fear and uncertainty that mean psychological disarmament. We can speak fine words about world peace. Unless we stand strong and united as a nation, words are meaningless.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

lead children and adults to see that we gain spiritually, help ourselves make, as we grow to be sensitive to the needs and feelings of others in our midst, as we prove that we can put ourselves in our imagination in the other person's place.

We should train our tongue, our eyes, the muscles of our face, hands, feet, whole body indeed, and our thoughts and feelings behind them, so as to avoid making any person (child or adult) with any physical irregularities whatsoever aware that we consider him the least different from others.

"We should train ourselves to be so absorbed in his inner personality as to be blind to his outer irregularities. We should accept him as he is and, therefore, help him accept himself."

This is a part of spiritual education we all need to strive to attain. It should result in so much more peace of mind and happiness not only to the crippled veteran or child but also to ourselves.

Bob Hope, tells of a small community in England to which many disabled veterans are sent, where everybody there has some sort of marked disfigurement in order to help them make the emotional adjustment. I was touched and then inspired by that account.

Solving Parent Problems

Q. Do you think a parent should be impressed with the argument by a child of ten that other children don't have to help in the house so much.

A. No, pay no attention to such remarks. Just answer one time. That is the way to do.

Plan Credit For Servicemen In Income Tax Bill

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—(INS)—Sen. George D. Go, chairman of the senate finance committee, declared today that the pending "interim" tax bill should continue the present $1500 income tax exemption for servicemen for at least one year.

George proposed further that additional credit be given to men and women who have served overseas in the armed forces.

George called for elimination of the requirement that servicemen file income tax returns even though they pay no tax.

"I think we should extend the present exemption on all income of servicemen for some reasonable period—perhaps at least they should have one year," George said.

Credit For Overseas

The chairman of the senate tax-writing committee now preparing to work on a tax reduction measure to apply on 1946 income added:

And I believe it should be done on this interim tax bill. Otherwise, it would come too late to do much good.

"Some additional credit should be given to men who have served overseas and have been out of touch with things at home."

"Our exemption should be high enough so that all enlisted men and women and the lower ranking officers should not have to pay any tax if all their income was from the government."

"A veteran ought not to be required to make out a return for the years in service when his income did not exceed the exemption. This is no profit to the government and is a terrible annoyance to men who have spent months in the Pacific."

George disclosed that the joint congressional tax committee has been studying possible steps to ease the tax burden on returning veterans for several months. He expressed the opinion that the present $1500 exemption to service personnel was "reasonable and fair" but that overseas service should be given additional credit.

Willie Harvey, burglary, fined $1 and costs and 1½ to 3 years in the Allegheny county workhouse.

John Parks, burglary, fined 61-4 cents and given 3 to 6 years in the western penitentiary.

FIRST IN YEARS

The habeas corpus petition of Anthony Condella in which he asked to be admitted to bail upon a charge of murder was the first of its kind in this county for many years.

Other petitions have been entered in past years and there have been times when persons charged with murder have been released upon bail when an examination of the circumstances led the court to believe that the crime could not rise to first degree murder.

Condella's defense will be self defense. His contention will be that Isaac Rabih Swartzfager, a moldy by trade, and a man five feet ten inches in height, attacked him and that he could not escape from his clutches. Believing his life to be in danger, Condella will contend that he shot to save himself.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Western Pennsylvania Artificial Breeding Cooperative in Butler Friday, it was revealed that the Western Pennsylvania Cooperative, to which many Lawrence county cattle breeders belong, is now the largest in Pennsylvania, and one of the largest in the nation.

Construction of another barn was authorized with a capacity for 30 bulls. The Cooperative now owns 28 bulls. The Holstein and Guernsey bull committees are also planning to add more bulls shortly.

J. W. Ferris, of New Wilmington, is president of the Lawrence county unit, and Albert McConnell, of North Beaver township, is secretary.

Fifteen units in Western Pennsylvania are now receiving service from the central station at Clarion, and another will be ready to start in October or November.

Gaston Post To Elect Officers

Rousing Meeting Of Post Expected Tuesday Evening By American Legion Post

Tuesday evening's meeting of Perry S. Gaston Post, American Legion, promises to be one of the most interesting held in many months, with several hundred World War Two veterans ready to step in and give their voice in Legion affairs.

It will be election night with the post, Commander Lee R. Hanna states, and refreshments will be served at the close of the meeting.

With an intensive membership campaign for veterans of the current war now under way, the past week has shown an acceleration of around 150 in the post's membership and a great many more are expected to be added by Tuesday evening.

Plans for a new home will be outlined, the building committee having taken a lease on the old Patterson property on North Mercer street with a frontage of 173 feet on Mercer street, and extending back behind The Cathedral, a distance of 250 feet.

Business Places In New Wilmington Are Again Robbed

NEW WILMINGTON, Sept. 22.—State police from New Castle and Butler barracks and Lawrence County Detective Charles Ross from the district attorney's office are investigating the second robbery this year of business establishments in New Wilmington.

Burglars broke into the Fred Williamson store on Market street and the Globe printing office and Clara Wagner's garage on East Neshannock avenue early Thursday morning. The Globe and Wagner were victims of the first robbery.

Fred Williamson estimated $500 worth of merchandise was taken from his place. The burglars entered through the furnace door in the rear of the building and then made their way into the first floor by knocking down the wall around a steel-sheeted door. It was the fourth robbery of the Williamson store.

Entering through a back window, the thieves broke open a safe door in the front office of the Globe Printing company and took $27.07 in cash, Publisher Harold E. Burns reports. Cigarettes were taken from the adjacent Wagner garage.

State police were accompanied by a fingerprint expert from Butler at the investigation.

Senators Lose To Yanks 5-3

Defeat Puts Washington On Spot As Tigers Face Browns In Game Today

CUBS BATTLING PIRATES TODAY

By LES CONKLIN
(International News Service Sports Writer)
NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—All four contenders for the two major league pennants were to swing into action today, with three of them facing strong opposition.

The Chicago Cubs, happy beyond words to be back on their own diamond, entertained the improving Pittsburgh Pirates.

St. Louis was host to Cincinnati in a night game. While the Reds are wallowing in seventh place, they have been a thorn in the side of the Cards all season.

Tigers vs. Browns

Detroit came home to face the sprightly St. Louis Browns, while the drooping Washington Senators gladly fled New York for Philadelphia, where they hope to feast on the tail-end Athletics today and tomorrow in their swan song of the season.

The Alphonse-Gaston act between Detroit and Washington, with each trying its level best to hand the other the American league pennant, continued yesterday. The Nats not only dropped another game to the Yankees, 5 to 3, but also lost most of their admirers by their listless playing with a golden opportunity in front of them. They had runners on base in every inning against Bill Zuber, but left 12 men stranded and kicked away chances in futile efforts to steal a base.

Senators on Spot

If Washington wins all three of its remaining games, Detroit can gain a tie by winning only two of its six remaining contests. Ordinarily that would be a cinch for a pace-setting outfit, but the Tigers have lost three straight and may have trouble pulling out of their slump.

Any combination of four (either Detroit victories or Washington defeats) will assure the Tigers of the flag.

In the National league race seven is the key figure. The Cubs can win by any combination of seven victories or St. Louis losses. Each team has eight more games on its schedule.

The Brooklyn Dodgers took a firm hold on third place by beating the Phillies twice, 1 to 0 and 11 to 5.

Democrats Vote To End Probe Of Roosevelt Loan

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—(INS)—The House ways and means committee today over-rode Republican opposition and voted to end its investigation of the $200,000 Hartford-Roosevelt tax case.

By a straight party ballot of 14 to 10, the Democratic majority voted to recommend to the house that the bureau of internal revenue allow a $196,000 deduction made by John Hartford, president of the Atlantic and Pacific Tea Co., on his 1942 income tax return.

Hartford had loaned Brig. Elliott Roosevelt, the late president's son, $200,000 for his Texas radio network in 1939 and settled the debt in 1942 for $4,000, which was paid by then secretary of commerce Jesse Jones.

The committee had launched an investigation to determine whether the income tax laws were being violated.

Lt. John Winant Jr. Given Discharge

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 22.—(INS)—The Army Air Forces announced today that Lt. John G. Winant, Jr., has been discharged from active duty at the AAP redistribution station in Atlantic City.

Lt. Winant, whose home is in Concord, N. J., formerly was a bombardier in the 8th Airforce and was a prisoner of war in Germany.

Guidance Program Will Be Suggested For Local Schools

Penn State Educator To Be Here For Conferences During Coming Week

For the purpose of suggesting a workable guidance program in the New Castle schools, Miss Mary Jane Wyland, professor of education in Penn State, will be in New Castle Monday and Tuesday to meet with the teachers. Supt. Frank L. Burton announced today.

In order to meet with all the teachers it will be necessary to dismiss classes parts of each day, Dr. Burton said. On Monday morning all classes, elementary, junior and senior high schools will be off. The elementary schools will be off all day, but the junior and senior high schools will meet at 12:20. Pupils should eat their lunches before coming to school, as the cafeterias will not be open.

Half Day Tuesday

The junior and senior high school pupils will not report until 12:20 Tuesday, but the elementary schools will report as usual at nine o'clock. Attendance at the conferences with Miss Wyland are a 'Must'. Dr. Burton stated. Teachers not attending will be docked in a day's pay except for emergencies such as illness.

Miss Wyland is a specialist in her field and through her work here it is hoped to outline a guidance program that will be intelligent, practical and workable.

Some pulp mills are using a new debarker said to result in an estimated 20 percent saving of wood. Bark is removed from logs by the force of a jet of water at 650 pounds pressure, without disturbing the wood itself.

Marks 75th Birthday, Monath Gets Day Off

Fred Monath Takes Thursday Off To Go Fishing On 75th Anniversary

Fred Monath of 1813 East Washington street, a foreman at the National Radiator Company didn't work on Thursday. As a matter of fact E. L. Brundage, superintendent, told him he couldn't work and he had better get out of the plant. So Fred and his son Titus went fishing at the Pymatuning Dam.

It wasn't that Fred had committed any breach of rules or couldn't do the work. It was his birthday, his seventy-fifth.

He should take a day off. In order to mark the day a little better the employees gave Mr. Monath a $50 war bond.

At seventy-five Mr. Monath is on the job every morning at six o'clock and works until three. During the bowling season he can be found bowling with one of the Radiator teams and again in season, he goes hunting and fishing.

He has been a foundry man for forty-nine years, and a good one. He came to New Castle in 1920 with the National Radiator Company and since then has lost but a few days on account of sickness.

At seventy-five he looks, works and acts like a lot of men twenty years younger.

His son Titus was star athlete in his high school days and served as captain of one of Bridenbaugh's stellar teams. But his dad can't keep pace with him on hunting or fishing trips.

MARKET TODAY OFF FRACTIONS

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—(INS)—Stock market values declined fractionally today when traders devoted the brief two-hour session to profit-taking.

Turnover was light, with less than 500,000 shares changing hands. Losses in leaders ran to as much as a half point. Bethlehem and General Motors lost an eighth.

Chrysler and U. S. Steel dipped a half. Graham Page was weak and nearly a point lower.

Dealing in rails were routine. A few sales depressed C. and O. and Southern Pacific about 3-8 each. Light realizing checked the uptrend in coppers. Boeing Airplane and Douglas Aircraft were steady to higher. Utilities were featureless.

In the oil group Standard Oil of N. J. slipped 3-4. Blue chip stocks continued firm.

Bonds were firm in a dull trade, while curb shares moved in a narrow, meaningless range.

Ex-Trooper Held For Wife's Death

Accused Man Denies Previous Confession In Story To Greensburg Officers

GREENSBURG, Pa., Sept. 22.—(INS)—William Tevelin, 35, former member of state police troop A at Greensburg, today was being held for the November grand jury on charges of murder in the death of his wife last January 21.

Tevelin was committed to the Westernland county jail without bail after a brief hearing before Alderman Paul Thomas.

One witness was State Police Detective John Chirn, who quoted Tevelin's confession to Scranton police last Tuesday. Chirn testified that the ex-trooper admitted choking his wife with a cigarette to hide the crime.

In his confession, Tevelin said he did it only because his wife pleaded with him to kill her. He said she feared she had cancer.

Assistant District Attorney John M. O'Connell, who with District Attorney Edward G. Baker and State Police Capt. A. J. Hudock questioned Tevelin after he was returned to Greensburg from Scranton, said the prisoner denied the previous story with the following one:

Went To California
After the death of his wife last January, he decided to go to California and seek work in pictures for his 10-year-old daughter, who is a talented dancer.

He was unsuccessful and returned to Scranton to live with his two brothers, but apparently was unwell. Last Saturday he placed his daughter in a private school. When he visited her on Monday, she begged him to take her out. He had no place to go and could not care for her.

Then he decided to go to the Scranton police headquarters and take the story that he killed his wife because she had cancer.

The district attorney's office and state police had no comment to make on this story.

Tevelin repeated the confession he made in Scranton, denied it with this story and then repeated the previous confession. Captain Hudock said.

The former trooper did not testify at yesterday's hearing and refused legal counsel.

Three-Day Typhoon Sweeps Part Of Japan

TOKYO, Sept. 22.—(INS)—A three-day typhoon which swept western Japan this week left in its wake 876 known dead, 943 missing, 919 injured, and extensive property damage.

Worst hit by the typhoon, which blew itself out last night, was Hiroshima prefecture. In the center of the prefecture is the city of Hiroshima, first target of the atomic bomb.

The first report from the governor of the prefecture said the typhoon, which reached a velocity of 150 miles per hour, passed over the western part of Japan, including Tokyo, and expended its strength in the Sea of Japan.

The governor's report said that 1,070 houses in the Hiroshima prefecture were washed away by torrential rains which accompanied the typhoon, and 2,069 houses were otherwise destroyed. More than three thousand homes were damaged and nearly 50,000 inundated to the first floor.

SPOTLIGHT Of Today

(International News Service)

BARON VON NEURATH

Baron Konstantin von Neurath, 69, latest of Nazi big shots to be taken to Nuremberg for trial is a war criminal, personifies the ruthlessly acquisitive German diplomacy which twice in the 20th century plunged Europe into bloody war.

He first entered the Reich's foreign service in 1903 as vice-consul in London, and almost continuously up to Hitler's downfall was a member of the inner circle which master-minded Germany's foreign policy.

After serving in foreign posts in Turkey, Denmark, England and Italy he became Germany's foreign minister in the ever-scheming cabinets of Von Papen, Von Schleicher and Hitler. In 1938 he was president of Hitler's privy council and finally, in the following year, was made "protector" of Bohemia and Moravia.

Von Neurath, although ordinarily avoiding making public statements, was among those who most bitterly denied stories of German atrocities during World War I. Again, in 1933 while foreign minister he vehemently denied stories of persecution of the Jews in Germany, calling them a rebirth of a 1914 "villification" program.

While ambassador in Rome between 1922 and 1930 he always found some excuse for not attending the Weimar republic's celebrations of Germany's constitution day. One of his chief contributions to World War II was his cementing, in Rome, of relations between Hitler and Mussolini, leading to the birth of the ill-fated Axis.

Civilian Benefit From War Time Inventions Seen

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—(INS)—Manufacturers of the new, Hiroshima secret VT radio-proximity fuse for projectiles revealed today that development of the VT will make possible in the postwar world cheap pocket radios, diminutive civilian walkie-talkie sets and improved hearing aids.

The VT, which rated second only to the atomic bomb in winning World War II, exploded projectiles automatically within 70 feet of a target. This was made possible by development of a tiny, sturdy radio tube, less than an inch long.

The new tube, weighing an ounce, will bring pocket radios and walkie-talkie sets within the reach of all in the near future, the manufacturers said.

Serious Situation At Naples, Italy

Big Demonstration As 30,000 Italian Dockworkers Are Supplanted By German Prisoners

NAPLES, Sept. 22.—(INS)—A dangerous situation was developing today in Naples as a result of the dismissal of some 30,000 Italian dockworkers who were being replaced by German prisoners of war. One evidence of the tension was obvious in the demonstration yesterday afternoon in which Premier Ferruccio Parri was jeered, hooted at and hissed by representatives of the dockworkers during a mass meeting.

Demonstrators have threatened to kill the Germans who have supplanted them, and who are said to be getting "better treatment" than the Italian workmen.

Further aggravating the situation is the report that the Germans have been going about with American officers and soldiers, carousing with Neapolitan girls.

Additional Italian troops and police reinforcements have been mustered in the Naples area, but authorities admit they are not in position to control the fast-deteriorating situation. These officials added that they hope the U. S. War department will countermand the order evicting the Italian workers in preference to the German prisoners.

Additional Italian troops and police reinforcements have been mustered in the Naples area, but authorities admit they are not in position to control the fast-deteriorating situation. These officials added that they hope the U. S. War department will countermand the order evicting the Italian workers in preference to the German prisoners.

Further aggravating the situation is the report that the Germans have been going about with American officers and soldiers, carousing with Neapolitan girls.

Two From Here Ordained At District Meet

Henry Sumner And Benjamin Jenkins Ordained Christian Alliance Ministers

Henry Sumner, who has served the Washington Union Mission of the Christian Missionary Alliance, as pastor, was formally ordained Thursday night at an impressive ordination service which brought the annual district and prayer conference of the western Pennsylvania district to a close. The conference was in session in Huntingdon from Monday through Thursday.

Benjamin Jenkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Jenkins of this city, was also among the 11 young men thus ordained. Rev. Jenkins is pastor of the Alliance church at Fous Mills.

Rev. H. J. Bonn, pastor of the Gospel Tabernacle, served on one of the ordaining councils. Dr. H. M. Sumner, president of the Christian Missionary Alliance, delivered the charge; Rev. D. C. Kopp, assistant district superintendent, offered the prayer of ordination and Rev. H. J. Sutton of Ambidge extended the right hand of fellowship.

Those attending the conference from this area were Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bonn, Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Van Horn, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sumner, Mr. and Mrs. F. Russell Schillinger, Edward Mink, Clyde Bookamer, Mr. and Mrs. E. Truitt, James Dittmar, Joseph Jenkins, Mrs. Charlotte Duncan and the Misses Betty and Charlotte Sumner. Meadville was selected as the place of meeting for the next conference.
